SUDAN INSURRECTION DENIED.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, March 20 .- Undaunted by the loss of the battleships Bouvet, Ocean and Irresistible, the allies are continuing in their attempt to force the Dardanelles, with confidence in ultimate

The Turks are equally confident, as the reports from Constantinople indicate, that the forts along the the straits and the mines therein will be able to keep out the allied ships.

SHIPS REPAIRED ON SPOT.

The damaged ships are being repaired on the spot, and three others are enroute to take the place of those destroyed. Within a few days the fleet expects to be more furmidable than ever. The Russian Black Sea squadron is believed to be in readiness to co-operate in the operations.

SIXTY-FOUR SAVED ON BOUVET.

Only sixty-four of the Bouvet crew were saved, but the casualities on the other ships destroyed is said to be light. The statement Waterwhot They will fire pro- of the British admiralty on the losses on the Irresistible contains the names of only four officers killed and one injured. The crew was transferred under a hot fire. Part of the fleet re-entered the Dardanelles yesterday, but did no bombarding. This was probably because of the unfavorable weather, the main object being to prevent the Turks from repairing damage done to forts.

INVADING FORCE IN READINESS.

The admiralty state that steps are being taken to deal with mines, but experts notify the public that as long as the Turks place mines in a strong surrent ships must be exposed to the danger of destruction. The intentions with reference to a landing force are closely guarded, but it is well known that an army of considerable size is ready to attack the Turkish forces as soon as the admirals advise that the proper moment has arrived.

GERMANS REPORT SUCCESSES.

Although there is fighting of more or less importance in progress in the eastern theatre of war, the western fronts have witnessed no important operations within the past few days. The Germans claim a small success against the British at St. Floi and against the French at North Arras. They also repulsed the French attacks in Champagne, Argonne and the Vosges. The French report says there is nothing of importance to report. Large operations are not attempted in north Poland at present. The Russian movement appears to be a cavalry raid rather than a troop movement.

AUSTRIANS REPULSE RUSSIANS.

The Austrians have been heavily reinforced in Bukowina and have repulsed Russian attacks in the Carpathians.
